22nd April*

RANGOON, 22nd Apl.—The MONARCH, Banner, bound to Bombay, with timber, sprung a leak when loaded. The master reported that the leak had been stopped, and has proceeded to sea. [Before reported by telegram.]

*Lloyds List
23 May*

BOMBAY, 10th Aug., 7.5 p.m.—The MONARCH, from Rangoon to this port, with teak, is reported to have foundered at sea, but the news requires confirmation; cargo has been washed ashore at Alibag.

11th August

BOMBAY, 11th Aug.—Logs of teak are being washed ashore at Alibag and the coast down at Hurnee, about 50 miles S of this place. These logs formed part of the cargo of the MONARCH, Banner, from Rangoon to this port, 114 days out, and it is supposed that she has foundered. [Before reported by tel.]

BOMBAY, 11th Aug.—[Another account.]—The Orissa (s) passed the MONARCH, bottom up, 130 miles South of Bombay.

5th Sept

BOMBAY, 14th Aug.—The Orissa (s) passed a ship, bottom up, yesterday, supposed to be the MONARCH, about 100 miles South of Bombay and some 20 miles distant from the land. The timber washed ashore undoubtedly belongs to that vessel, and it is reported that a pinnace has been washed ashore down the coast bearing her name. [See Bombay paragraphs in List of 5th Sept.]

7th "

GALLE 16th Aug.—The following telegram has been received from the Marine Board at Bombay:—'Bombay, 11th Aug. Vessel on her beam ends in lat. 17.19 lon. 72.51. Warn vessels.' [See Bombay paragraph in List of 7th Sept. relating to the MONARCH.]

BOMBAY, 18th Aug.—According to a Government report, about 500 pieces of teak, forming part of the MONARCH's cargo, have washed ashore about 50 miles down the coast. The Government steamer, which went in search of the wreck, was not successful in finding it, and returned to port. [See paragraph in List of 7th Sept.]

11th "

BOMBAY, 25th Aug.—Nothing more has been heard of the MONARCH, but more teak logs, and a boat with her name painted on it, have come ashore from 50 to 80 miles South of this port. [See paragraph in List of 11th Sept.]

16th "

BOMBAY, 25th Aug.—The figurehead of the MONARCH has been washed ashore near Hurnee. [See paragraph in List of 16th Sept.]

18th "

BOMBAY, 1st Sept.—The MONARCH was seen by the Canara (s), about 30 miles W of Rajapore on the Malabar coast; the wreck was then lying on her broadside, and the keel could be seen occasionally. [See paragraph in List of 18th Sept.]

LIVERPOOL, 10th Oct., 11.50 a.m.—The master of the Rivera (s), arrived here from Barcelona, reports having picked up a lifeboat, name 'IONIA, of London,' painted on stern, in lat. 48 N, lon. 7 W.

Lloyd's List
11th Oct

ST. MICHAEL'S MOUNT, 17th Oct.—A ship's royal yard, 36 feet long, painted drab colour, also a forehatch, 10 feet long, apparently not long in the water, have been picked up and brought in here.

20th Oct

PENZANCE, 19th Oct.—The following have washed ashore:—

At Mill bay, near the Land's end:—A piece of a vessel's deck, about 35 planks of different lengths, with an iron beam 15 $\frac{1}{2}$ feet long, and a piece of iron beam 9 feet long.

At Praa sands on the night of 16th Oct.:—A lifebuoy, painted white and marked in black letters 'S.S. IONIA, London.' [See Mount's bay paragraph in List of yesterday.]

21st Oct

PENZANCE, 31st Oct.—With reference to the lifebuoy marked 'S.S. IONIA, of London,' picked up 16th Oct., at Praa sands, the following articles have since been reported from the same district, viz.:—

17th Oct.—At Prussia cove: A piece of red pine spar, 33 feet long and 9 inches in diameter, painted dark drab. Also a cabin door and jamb, with brass hangings, lock, and fastener, 6 feet deep and 1 foot 11 inches wide, painted flesh colour on one side and grained on the other. At Kenegry: A small piece of 3-inch spar, 12 feet long, painted white.

18th Oct.—At St. Michael's mount: One red pine royal yard, 28 feet long.

19th Oct.—At Marazion: A forehatch, 16 inches wide by 12 feet long, marked 'F. 1 F.'

20th Oct.—At Porthleven: A boom, 33 feet long and 11 inches in diameter at the middle.

30th Oct.—A wreck, apparently a vessel bottom up or the side of a vessel, was seen floating yesterday. The steam Seyne-boat from Sennen cove, went off and towed it for some distance to the Northward, but, could not make any headway, not being of sufficient power. The paddle steamer Queen of the Bay has proceeded from this port to-day to look after the wreck. [See paragraph in List of 21st Oct.]

AARHUUS, 11th Nov.—A nameboard marked 'TREBIZOND' has washed ashore at Gjernad, also a charter party, from which it appears that a vessel of that name, of 280 tons, apparently belonging to Whitby, was chartered at Newcastle on the 30th Sept., 1876, to load 22 keels of coal for Elsinore. Among other papers picked up is a bill of lading, dated 5th Dec., 1875, the name of the master apparently being Harrison. GRIMSBY, 4th Nov., 4.30 p.m.—The ALEXANDER (barq.), of Danzig, from Leith to the Baltic, is in the roads leaky.

Lloyd's List 6th Nov

GRIMSBY, 27th Nov., 6.13 p.m.—[Another report.]—The ANNANDALE (schr.), of Malden, Kent, from Sunderland to London, with coal, has put into the basin with loss of anchor and chain, windlass broken, purchase gone, and lost started, which accident occurred off Winterton. The ALEXANDER, Banke, hence to Danzig, after repairing, in going out of harbour, struck the West pier, carrying away cathead, part of bulwarks, stanchions, &c. which necessitated her return into dock.

" 28th "

GRIMSBY, 10th Dec.—The ALEXANDER, Panten, for Danzig, has sailed, after repairing. The FRIEDERICH (schr.), of Hull, has been run on the West mud, supposed leaky.

" 12th Dec

WICK, 30th Dec.—A body, attired in a cork jacket, has been washed ashore at Loth, near Helmsdale, which, from papers found in the pockets of the deceased, has been identified as that of Captain B. Panten, of the ALEXANDER, of Danzig. Fragments of wreck have also come ashore near the same place, so that there is reason to believe that the vessel, with her entire crew, was lost on the Sutherland-shire coast during the recent gale. [See Grimsby paragraph in List of 12th Dec.]

FOWEY, 18th Dec.—A lifebuoy, painted white and marked 'GREAT QUEENSLAND, of London,' in black letters, has been picked up about a mile and a half E of this harbour. The Great Queensland, of and from London, for Melbourne, was spoken 12th Aug., in lat. 48 N lon. 9 W.]
FOWEY, 18th Dec.—[Another report.]—There was picked up this morning, about 1½ mile E of the harbour, a ship's lifebuoy, with 'GREAT QUEENSLAND, of London,' painted on it. Apparently it has been some time in the water. There are also great portions of wreckage in the offing, such as pieces of deck plank, deals, and staves, the whole of which has been a great while in the water, and it is covered with barnacles, varying from 3 inches to 9 inches in length.

Lloyd's List of

WEYMOUTH, 9th Jan.—Picked up within this district, a piece of board 6 feet by 7 inches, with the letters 'FIDUCIA VENEZIAN,' in carved letters, apparently off a ship's side or quarter; also a lifebuoy painted white, with 'STENIPL., AMOC,' in blue letters, appearing to have been in the water some time; also a board 5 feet 6 inches long, painted blue, with the letters 'QUEENSLAND' on it, and covered with small barnacles. [See Fowey paragraph in List of 20th Dec.]

" 11th Jan

SALCOMBE, 21st Jan.—Half of a lifebuoy, on which 'QUEENSLAND' can be read distinctly through the paint, has been picked up in the harbour. [See Weymouth paragraph in List of 11th Jan.]

BUDE, 5th Feb.—Fragments of a boat have washed ashore about a mile above here. On the stern is 'CHARLETON, Salcombe, Samuel Partridge.' A few Spanish nuts are coming ashore; a cask of palm oil has also been washed in, and the remains of another cask have been found on the beach.

Lloyd's List 7 Feb

BOSCASTLE.—The coastguard here report that part of the figure-head of a vessel was picked up at Shangle beach, St. Guines, 11th Feb. The following is the description given:—'Four feet long; black hair, with yellow wreath round head; light blue eyes; yellow eardrops; two rows of yellow beads round neck; dress dark blue, with yellow band round waist, and left arm hanging to side with yellow bracelet on wrist. Right side of figure-head gone, excepting head.' From the appearance of the figure-head the chief boatman thinks it was from the Salcombe schooner reported lost. MONTROSE, 23rd Dec. - [Recd. at 7 p.m.] - Advices from Bourdon state that the barque wrecked yesterday afternoon S of the Tod head cannot be identified. It is reported that another vessel was seen to founder there same afternoon; also that the PETER BAHLRUS, of Barth, Gorm, was wrecked last night at Whistle berry, 3 miles N of Bervie; no intelligence of crew. The vessel lost last night N of Gourdon was apparently an Italian or Austrian, laden with straw; part of her flag, green and white striped, has been found. There are several vessels off here; weather moderating.

Lloyd's List
26th Dec

Cargo.

MONTROSE, 16th Jan. - The wreckage proceeding from the vessel lost at Whistleberry about the 22nd Dec., has been inspected twice, and the following articles found: two empty chests, and a seaman's chest containing some clothes and letters, one of which was from the brother of Carl Froming, addressed to him, dated at Friedrichstal, with the Stolpennunde postmark and 'Stral' - the rest being torn off (this letter is addressed care of the Nord Deutsch ship PETER BALRUHS, of Barth, Captain Görndt); a broken nameboard with 'PETER' on it, and another piece with 'Barth'; two pieces of nameboard painted in white letters five or six inches deep on a black ground - both pieces are split lengthwise and are read thus PETER, as part of 'Peter,' and UHS as 'UHS.' From the fact of the water being very deep, and the rocks precipitous where the wreckage was found, no doubt is entertained that the vessel went to pieces immediately in the heavy Easterly sea which prevailed from 20th to 23rd Dec., and that the cargo was entirely lost, as none of it was to be seen. MELBOURNE, 27th Mar. 2.15 p.m. — The Strathdon, from London to Sydney, reports having passed wreckage, 16th Jan., in lat. 39 S lon. 1 E, supposed CAIRO.

Lloyd's List
28 Mar.

LIVERPOOL, 6th Apl., 7.11 p.m. — CAIRO. — Owners of this vessel state that on 29th Mar. the following telegram was sent to Messrs. Bright Bros., Melbourne: — 'Cable what ground Strathdon supposes wreckage Cairo.' To which they received the following reply, this morning: — 'Cairo supposed lost much wreckage seen.' [See Melbourne paragraph in List of 28th Mar.]

" 7th Apl

SYDNEY, 9th Mar. — The STRATHDON, Bache, arrived here from London, passed, between 4 a.m. and 8 a.m., 16th Jan., in lat. 39 S, a large quantity of drifting wood, consisting of thin slabs or scantling from 20 feet to 30 feet in length; one piece fouled the ship's stem; it consisted of four slabs lashed together, and appeared quite clean, having evidently been but a short time in the water. Also passed two bales and a box; the box was corded, and appeared about three feet long. The weather at the time being foggy, could not see far from the ship's side, or probably might have seen more. Wind light at NNW, with a dense fog. At 9 a.m. passed a quantity of loose corks, also a bag or bale, which appeared to contain some very light substance, probably corks. 10 p.m., still passing quantities of corks, some of which appeared quite fresh, others of a dark colour. The side and end of a case were also passed. 11 a.m., still passing numbers of corks; also an indiarubber ball, painted in colours, such as are sent to the colonies as cargo. [See Melbourne telegram in List of 28th Mar.]

" 26th

SYDNEY, 4th Mar. — The master, Beche, of the Strathdon, arrived here from London, reports: — On 1st Jan. passed between Trinidad and Martin Vaz rock, proceeding Southwards with light Easterly and SE winds. 16th Jan., in lat. 39 S lon. 5, had thick weather, and from daylight until 2 p.m., passed through quantities of some vessel's cargo, consisting of bales, portions of cases, large quantities of loose corks and flooring boards. This was in the latitude, but a good deal to the Eastward of Tristan and Gough islands, but considering the strong current which there sets Eastward, I think that some vessel had been lost at that group. [See paragraph in List of yesterday.]

" 27th

SYDNEY, 4th Mar. — The position of the wreckage passed by the Strathdon, reported under this heading in List of 27th Apl., was lat. 39 S lon. 0, not lon. 5 as before reported.

" 30th

LONDON, 28th Apl. — The Cutty Sark arrived hence at Sydney [since arrived at Shanghai] reports: — Sighted Tristan d'Acunha on the 4th Dec.; was boarded by a boat from the island, which reported 95 souls on shore, all well. [The above is in reference to Sydney paragraph in List of 27th Apl. See also Sydney paragraph in to-day's List.]

The Portland, Smith, which arrived at Sydney, 21st Feb., from London, reports that on the 28th Dec., in lat. 20 S lon. 30 W, she spoke the CAIRO (ship), from London to Melbourne, steering Southward, and that when seen and signalled everything seemed satisfactory.

BOSTON, 22nd Aug.—A letter states that a ship from Rangoon, name unknown, well laden, was signalled near the equator. She was so heavily loaded as to make but little headway, and could not reach England for a week or two from the present time. As every other Rangoon vessel has been heard from, it is hoped that the ship seen was the N. T. HILL, Shaw, from Rangoon to Falmouth.

Shanghai

SHANGHAI, 28th July.—The EAGLET, which left Nagasaki 13th July, and the LAUDERDALE, which left the same place, 15th July, both for this port, have not arrived, and from the fact of very severe weather having been prevalent from the 16th to the 18th, outside the Saddles, and inward bound steamers having reported seeing wreckage, great fears are entertained for their safety. HMS Frolic has been directed to proceed from Ningpo in search of these vessels, provided she is not detained there by unavoidable duties.

SHANGHAI, 11th Aug.—HMS Frolic which went out from Ningpo, in search of the EAGLET and LAUDERDALE, has returned to that place unsuccessful; she was cruising from the morning of 30th July to that of 4th Aug., and did not fall in with any ships, or wreckage of any description. HMS Lily left Nagasaki 28th July, to look for the above vessels, but also returned on the 6th Aug., without finding any trace of them.

The Kwa Hsing (Custom house str.) has returned after visiting the Saddles group, in search of the LAUDERDALE and EAGLET. During the passage she spoke a number of fishermen, but could hear no tidings of either vessels or wreckage. It is stated that orders have been sent to the various lighthouse keepers to buy any wreckage, should it be seen in the possession of any of the fishermen. [See paragraph in List of 14th Sept.]

The cargo shipped at Port Royal was stowed on the top of the comparatively light cargo taken in at the various other ports, and when the steamer went to sea she was so very crank that with no passengers and a crew of only 38 men she rolled or listed from side to side while still in the smooth water of the river, commencing when she left the dock and continuing on out to sea. Capt Whitburne stated that it was his intention to strip the vessel of all upper spars and rigging, and stow them in the hold. The wheat was in bulk.

CORUNNA, 21st Dec.—The British Vice-Consul at Carril arrived here last night with the information that a large vessel, judging from her masts a steamer, had been discovered by fishermen on the sunken rocks of Corrubedo, 7th Dec., only having a few feet of her topmasts in sight. Since then the wreck has drifted nearer the mainland, and several articles have washed ashore, such as bales of tobacco, tea, coffee, matting, bamboos, small stores, and some clothing, all of which have been taken charge of by the Spanish authorities. Nothing, however, has appeared to throw any light as to the name of the vessel or her nationality. The Vice-Consul has been stationed in front of the wreck for seven days, with the expectation that some part of the vessel with its name would come on shore, but, up to the day of his leaving the coast, no proof has been given. The coast, far and near, has been searched, and neither boats nor wreckage have been found. Therefore it is to be supposed that the crew and passengers have been saved by some passing vessel. PADSTOW, 25th Jan., 5.2 p.m.—The NEW PARLIAMENT, of Newquay, has put in with loss of mainboom and gaff. She passed a sinking steamer NE Pentire head; all hands on bridge.

Cargo. Coals

PADSTOW, 26th Jan.—The master, Pascoe, of the New Parliament, states that the screw steamer which he saw in a sinking state, had a straight up and down stem, white topgallantbulwarks aft, red bridge, yellow funnel, black hull, rigged as a fore and aft schooner, with pole masts (no topmasts), and was of about 200 tons burthen. She appeared to be an iron boat, and her crew, either 6 or 7 in number, were observed on the bridge. [See telegram below.]

A boat was seen off this coast last evening before dark with five men in it. Since that time there is no account of either men or boat. Another account says that the boat when first observed had 4 men in it, and was making for Stepper point, but afterwards the boat was seen full of water and there were only 2 men; at 5.30 p.m. only 1 man was left, and the boat appeared to be anchored. The life-boat went as far as the entrance of the harbour but could not get out owing to the heavy sea.

PADSTOW, 28th Jan., noon.—A boat was found to-day within this harbour, marked 'S. S. PIONEER, Swansea, E. J. Nicholas master.'

KINGSTOWN, 14th July. - The yacht Myra, arrived here, reports having seen a schooner founder suddenly about 15 miles SW of Ailsa Craig, at 3.30 p.m. yesterday, being then about three miles distant from the Myra. Both vessels were steering about SW, being bound South from the Clyde, and had been in company more or less since the morning from off the Cumbræes. The vessel was an iron topsail schooner of about 300 tons, with gilt or yellow painted moulding on stem and stern. She went down without apparent cause, with all canvas set.

STRANRAER, 17th Sept.—The body of a man was picked up to-day in Clanyard bay, near Port Logan, floating head downwards, with one leg through a ladder; the man appeared about 24 years of age, about 6 feet high, no whiskers or beard, ruddy complexion, and is supposed to have been only a few hours in the water. He was dressed in a pair of white moleskin trousers, flannel drawers with three blue stripes round the waistband, white flannel winsey striped shirt, blue guernsey frock, and top boots. A light receipt was found in his pocket, so much torn that only the name 'MARGARET, 77 tons, of Bideford,' could be deciphered.

LONDON, 19th Nov.—The Southern Cross, Henry, arrived in the River from Penang, reports:—31st Oct., in lat. 47 33 N lon. 14 30 W, observed a ship on fire, with another vessel close to her. Ran down within half a cable's length of her, and found boats and crew all gone. Supposed the other vessel had taken them off. The said vessel might be about 1,000 tons. The fire extended from abaft the foremast to the taffrail; main and mizen masts both gone, foremast still standing. Saw the sails had been unbent from the fore and topsail yards.

SHIELDS, 3rd Dec.—No certain account has yet been received here respecting the barque CORDELIA, Wilson, of South Shields. It is now ten weeks since she left the Tyne with a cargo of coal and coke, for Carthagena. The last time she was heard of was off Dover, when she was seen by some pilots tacking down Channel. The master of the ship Southern Cross, of Sunderland, reports having seen, about six weeks ago, in the middle of the Bay of Biscay, on fire, a large barque having a full white poop and topgallant fore-castle, which correspond with the Cordelia. The davits were hanging over the quarter, as if the boats had been recently launched, and at the time a vessel was observed to be leaving the barque, from which circumstance the master of the Southern Cross is of opinion she had taken off the crew of the burning vessel. The Cordelia had a crew of 15 hands all told. [See London paragraph in List of 20th Nov.]

ROTTERDAM, 14th Nov.—Among other wreckage washed ashore at Westkapelle is a nameboard, with the name 'ELISE.'

The top of a flag chest, with 'Julius Byron, 1874,' painted on it, with two flags underneath, one having a yellow ground with a black dragon, the other flag being blue, white and red, both flagstays being bound by a wreath, has been picked up at Kondekurde.

The above is the information mentioned in the Owners letter as having appeared in the Börsen Halle. The name 'Julius Byron' is signed on the mate's receipt attached to said letter.
